

Women at the Forefront of Information Technology

IBM Research Opens Its Doors to Young Female Scientists

The goal of this event is to inspire and motivate young female scientists to pursue a career in science and technology. You will learn about the current cutting-edge research at IBM Research. Furthermore, you will have the opportunity to network with leading female scientists at IBM Research and learn about their work.

Join us to hear more about the topics we are working on from the fields of artificial intelligence, quantum computing and other technologies that are poised to accelerate scientific discovery cycles in the future.

The day at IBM Research includes presentations by IBM scientists, a tour of our labs and an interactive quiz together with IBM mentors for the day.

Event date: 22 July 2022

IBM Research Europe | Think Lab Zurich
Säumerstrasse 4, 8803 Rüschlikon, Switzerland

From 3rd year Bachelor Students to Final Year Master Students.

Contribution towards accommodation and travel costs for accepted applicants.

Application deadline: 26 June 2022

Further information:
www.zurich.ibm.com/events/techwomen

